Dear Mr. Vickery,

I'm writing to you regarding the software engineer role that opened up recently. I came across the job description on Indeed and was delighted to find that my academic accomplishments meet most of the necessary requirements. I am seeking a challenging but rewarding internship, which is why I was drawn to this exciting opportunity.

As an analyst programmer student at Ecole Industrielle et Commerciale d'Ecaussines, I have acquired skills in web and desktop development using .NET. I work a lot with WPF and I am very familiar the MVVM architectural pattern and the same goes for developing a ASP.NET Web API.

I designed most of the school project Alien JDR available on my GitHub and a small library management web and desktop application.

I would be delighted to have an opportunity to personally interview with you. Please accept the enclosed resume and feel free to contact me at your earliest convenience. I appreciate your time and consideration.

Your sincerely

Hatsijev Soultan
